

WRITING THE WAVES

EMILIE CONRAD & REBECCA MARK

FEBRUARY 17-20, 2011

JULY 7-10, 2011

AT THE CONTINUUM STUDIO
IN SANTA MONICA, CA

As we emerge from the sourcing of our Continuum journey, we put pen to paper and revel in the writing, hieroglyphic renderings, ciphers and mysterious cave drawings sometimes appearing as stories, poems and possibly dialogues as emergent characters surprisingly arrive.

Registration & Information:
$450 per session
Continuum 310.593.4651
theField@ContinuumMovement.com
www.ContinuumMovement.com

Life is really the art.

We find ourselves in a process individually illuminating, mysterious, communally healing, politically radical, and in forms of genius never seen before.

We move, we sound, our voices blend, our gestures reveal the moment as alive with creative fire.

Ultimately this process helps us witness the immense brilliance of the wave of cellular illumination and innovation we as humans are suspended in.

Creativity hovers on the periphery waiting to be born by the glance of recognition.

Life is really the art.

Creativity

hovers

on

the periphery

waiting

to be

born

by

the

glance

of recognition.

Creativity

on the periphery

waiting to be born

by the glance

of recognition.